The Procrastinator range of doodle pads comprise a variety of formats using a basic grid principle (demonstrated above) which contains loads of prompts, lists and choices that can be addressed in whatever way the user sees appropriate. It provides a welcome distraction to get the brain working in ways it may not be used to! Just a small selection of the huge amount of different content is shown here to give you a taster.

The content has been devised to be humorous, satirical, surreal and downright ridiculous. If your mind works in the same strange way then you, or whoever you are buying this for, are in for a real treat.
